

BUNKS & DECORATING

Absent of the typical double-decker bunk beds, every Camp Mac cabin features handcrafted, built-in single beds, with storage compartments underneath – eliminating the need for foot-lockers. Campers may bring personal bedding items and photos to decorate their bunks. Small lamps, fans, and extension cords are allowed. Before you arrive on Check-In, Bunk Assignments will have been made eliminating added stress of trying to get a certain bunk or save bunks upon arrival. If you have a request or disrequest, please indicate that on your camper's Personal Profile Form. We will not be able to honor day-of requests. Please note that bunk assignments take into account all campers' requests and disrequests and have been thoughtfully prepared by our staff for each camper. Families are not allowed to swap camper name tags on bunks at Check-In.

Note: Campers are subject to unannounced inspections of bunk area - just like the old trunk inspections!

LABELING POSSESSIONS

Please label everything you send to camp! This helps our campers keep track of personal belongings and makes for the successful return of "lost and found" items. Full name or initials (all three) will suffice!

Note: Camp is not responsible for lost items.
